Institutional Progress

The Strategic Diversity Plan (SDP) for Auburn University, adopted in 2005, lays the foundation for which the university can become a culturally diverse community as well as a model institution for diversity. The Office of Diversity and Multicultural Affairs has created several positions and initiatives that work closely with other units on campus to implement the diversity plan and help institute diversity as a core value. An assessment is conducted annually to quantify and qualify the progress made on the many strategies and tactics included in the plan.
