

Case Studies in Mentoring

Exploring Best Practices in Research Mentor-Mentee Relationships

Auburn University Office of Research Compliance

5 Tuesdays | Fall 2022

August 23, September 6, September 27, October 11, October 25

Zoom | 12:00 – 1:00 pm

Open to Faculty, Postdocs, Graduate Students

Carey Andrzejewski, PhD
Emily R. and Gerald S.
Leischuck Endowed
Professor; College of Education

Alan Wilson, PhD
Professor and Assistant
Director; School of Fisheries, Aquaculture &
Aquatic Sciences

Are you prepared to make the most of research mentorship? As a mentor, mentee, or both, are you prepared to navigate challenges posed by mentoring relationships? Bring your experiences, questions, and concerns and join us for case-based discussions about the nuances of effective mentorship. Each session is designed to support participants' development of strategies and skills to maximize the benefits of mentoring in research.

Calendar of Topics:

1. Effective Communication in Mentoring Relationships (August 23)
2. Aligning Expectations among Mentors and Mentees (September 6)
3. Equity in Mentorship (September 27)
4. Cultivating Ethical Behavior in Mentoring Relationships (October 11)
5. Mentorship and Authorship (October 25)

Register for the series or individual sessions here:

For more information, contact Milly Tye, Associate Director of Research Integrity & Compliance, milly@auburn.edu