

The COMPASS Listserv

Looking for timely, relevant information about sponsored projects administration?

Consider joining the COMPASS Listserv.

The COMPASS Listserv functions as a communication mechanism for those working, or interested, in sponsored projects administration. You can expect to see information from your peers on a variety of topics such as: proposal development, pre award budget development, compliance, post award management, effort reporting, payment and procurement services, uniform guidance updates, continuing education information, and emerging topics in research administration.

The listserv is not a tool to be used for things such as dialog, recruiting for groups, political activity, or advertising and marketing for groups. The COMPASS team wants to ensure that information provided is relevant to all its members.

The Listserv gives you options to digest messages so that you do not add to your email overload. It even lets you go back and view previously posted messages through an easily accessible archive system.

To subscribe and post:
